

Woodward Conference Centre, 10th Floor,
185 Pelham Street, University of Melbourne
Parkville Vic 3052

Salon Friday, 6.00pm – 9.00pm 17th November 2017
Conference Saturday, 9.00am - 5.00pm, 18th November 2017

LEADERSHIP IN A NEW ERA: THE 2017 FULBRIGHT CONFERENCE

PROGRAM DR IAIN BUTTERWORTH MC

SESSION ONE	TOPIC	PRESENTER
9.00am	Welcome to Country	Wurundjeri Tribe Land and Compensation Cultural Heritage Council
9.10am	Opening address: Formally open the conference and outline AFAA's vision for the Conference	Dr Iain Butterworth AFAA President
9.45am – 10.45am	KEYNOTE: Leading change in a new era: Challenges and opportunities Professor Carr a recipient of the Fulbright Distinguished Fellow Award Scholarship, will expand on the Conference theme: "Fulbright Alumni - Leadership in a new era"	Professor the Hon Bob Carr Former Foreign Minister Bob Carr is the longest continuously serving Premier in New South Wales history.

10.45 AM - 11.30 AM MORNING TEA

CONCURRENT SESSION ONE	TOPIC & PRESENTER	TOPIC & PRESENTER
11.30am – 12.30pm 15 min plus 15 min Q&A	1. Environmental responsibility Dr Iain Butterworth , President Australian Fulbright Alumni Association Presentation: International Frameworks for Global Action: How can we strengthen their alignment? Ms Caroline Park , Student, University of Melbourne, School of Population & Global Health Presentation: A Recipe for Disaster Professor Charles Sampford , DPhil (Oxon) Barrister at Law, Director, IEGL, The Institute for Ethics, Governance and Law, Foundation Dean and Professor of Law and Research Professor in Ethics, Griffith University Presentation: Re-Conceiving the Good Life – the Key to Sustainable Globalisation	2. Social and Economic Prosperity Daniel McNamara , PhD candidate at the Research School of Computer Science of the Australian National University. Presentation: Learning Representations of Data for Fair Machine Learning Dr Caroline Smith , Presentation: The Future of Workplace Leadership in Australia Professor Brian Maguire , Central Queensland University, has presented his research in nine countries. His doctoral degree in public health is from the George Washington University in Washington, D.C. For two decades he worked in New York City as a health services administrator and paramedic. Presentation: The most dangerous occupation in Australia

CONCURRENT SESSIONS:
Speakers will discuss current issues and challenges; highlight innovative solutions; and share insights that we can use to generate an action agenda for AFAA.

12.30 PM – 1.30 PM LUNCH

CONCURRENT SESSION TWO	TOPIC & PRESENTER	TOPIC & PRESENTER
1.30am – 3.00pm 20 min plus 20 min Q&A CONCURRENT SESSIONS: Speakers will discuss current issues and challenges; highlight innovative solutions; and share insights that we can use to generate an action agenda for AFAA	3. Cultural Vibrancy Professor Judith Yaross Lee, Distinguished Professor of Communication Studies and Charles E. Zumkehr Professor of Rhetoric and Public Culture in the Scripps College of Communication at Ohio University. Presentation: Past as Prologue: American Spoof Presidential Campaigns and the Rise of Donald Trump Joseph W. Slade, Emeritus Professor of Media Arts and Studies and Emeritus Director of the Central Region Humanities Center at Ohio University. Presentation: Images as Cultural Links - Lessons from a Video Documentary on Paul Laurence Dunbar Dr Danaë Killian, Honorary Fellow, University of Melbourne Presentation: Being an Expressionist in the 21st Century: A Performance of Schoenberg's Drei Klavierstücke, Followed by an Impromptu Musing	4. Social Justice Dr Clyde McGill, University Associate Curtin University. Presentation: Murujuga rock art and all the colonialisms Ms Shraddha Kashyap, Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Refugee Trauma and Recovery Program Presentation: Re-humanising the agenda on asylum seekers and refugees: the significance of the post-migration environment and what we can do. Dr Alison Vivian, Senior Researcher Jumbunna Institute for Indigenous Education and Research, UTS Presentation: Changing the Indigenous deficit narrative: How can we participate as Fulbrighters?

3.00 PM - 3.30 PM AFTERNOON TEA

PANEL DISCUSSION	PANELIST	PANELIST
3.30pm – 4.30pm Where do we need leadership most? East panelist is given 5mins to best respond to the question. "What are the largest gaps that you see in leadership today, and how do you think we can fill these gaps". The floor will then be opened for the audience to engage in a lively debate.	Professor Charles Sampford, DPhil (Oxon) Barrister at Law, Director, IEGE, The Institute for Ethics, Governance and Law, Foundation Dean and Professor of Law and Research Professor in Ethics, Griffith University Vanessa Adams, PhD, Researcher and lecturer in Conservation Biology at Macquarie University, President for Society for Conservation Biology Oceania and Treasurer for the Australian Fulbright Alumni Association.	Melanie Poole Melanie is a senior advocacy, policy and communications professional. Qualifications: Masters in Public Administration from New York University, Law (Honours) and Arts (Political Science) from the ANU, postgraduate Management and Advocacy certificates from Fordham and Berkeley universities. Her background is in international development and civil rights/human rights campaigning (including reproductive rights, LGBTIQ rights, racial justice.)

To register go to www.fulbrightalumni.org.au/Registration

Contact Details 2017Conference@fulbrightalumni.org.au

 Program correct at time of printing/publishing and maybe subject to change